Teacher Performance Appraisal Policy

The Governing Board of Buxton Infant School adopted this policy on the date shown on the cover page. It will be reviewed annually.

(The Governing Board is required to adopt and make available to teachers employed at the school a document which sets out the appraisal process for such teachers.)

1. Purpose

This policy sets out the framework for a clear and consistent assessment of the overall performance of teachers, including the head teacher, and for supporting their development within the context of the school's plan for improving educational provision, performance and the standards expected of teachers. The school is committed to providing high quality professional development that supports pupils in achieving their potential. The policy is intended to reflect the principles of fairness, equity and confidentiality.

2. Application of the Policy

The policy applies to the head teacher and to all teachers employed by the school, except those on contracts of less than one term, those undergoing an induction period, in accordance with the induction arrangements for school teachers (i.e. Newly Qualified Teachers), and those subject to the Formal Competence Procedure. (Wherever school terms are cited in this policy, this refers to the standard 6 term school year)

Appraisal in this school will be a supportive and developmental process designed to ensure that all teachers have the skills and support they need to carry out their role effectively. It will contribute to ensuring that teachers are able to continue to improve their professional practice and to develop as teachers.

This policy is complemented by the School's Pay Policy which details arrangements relating to the determination of teachers' pay, in accordance with the School Teachers' Pay and Conditions Document (STPCD). The pay policy contains the procedure for appeals against pay decisions.

The appraisal procedure will address any concerns that are raised about a teacher's performance. If the concerns cannot be resolved through this process there will be consideration of whether to commence the formal competence procedure. This Appraisal Policy dovetails with the School's procedure for dealing with situations where a teacher's level of competence falls below expectations, as detailed in the adopted Formal Competence Procedure.

3. Appraisal

The Appraisal Period

The appraisal period will run for twelve months from October 2019 to October 2020.

Teachers who are employed on a fixed term contract of less than one year will have their performance managed in accordance with the principles underpinning this policy. The length of the period will be determined by the duration of their contract.

Where a teacher begins employment with the school the Governing Board may determine that the initial appraisal period in respect of that teacher is shorter or longer than 12 months. Where a teacher starts their employment at the school part-way through a cycle, the head teacher, or in the case where the teacher is the head teacher, the Governing Board shall determine the length of the first appraisal cycle, with a view to bringing the cycle into line with that for other teachers at the school as soon as possible.

Appointing Appraisers

Head Teacher

The head teacher will be appraised by the Governing Board, supported by a suitably skilled and/or experienced external adviser who has been appointed by the Governing Board for that purpose.

In this school, the task of appraising the head teacher, including the setting of objectives, will be delegated to a sub-group consisting of three members of the Governing Board. Should one member of the sub-group be unable to attend the appraisal meeting, it may proceed with two Governors. If the Headteacher is of the opinion that one of the sub-group is unsuitable to act as her appraiser, she may write to the Chair of Governors to request that they be replaced, giving reasons. The chair will reply in writing with their decision.

Teachers

The head teacher will decide who will appraise other teachers. Where teachers have a concern about their nominated appraiser, they may write to the Headteacher, giving reasons. Where legitimate concerns are raised, these will be carefully considered by the Headteacher and an alternative appraiser may be offered, if possible. It is anticipated that appraisers will be those who hold some management role in relation to the teacher, unless the Headteacher has reason to nominate another appropriate appraiser. The nominated appraiser will hold an appropriate position in the staffing structure and have the necessary, knowledge, skills and experience to undertake the role. If, for any reason, the nominated appraiser is unable to conduct the role, an appropriately experienced alternative colleague will be appointed.

Setting Objectives

The head teacher's objectives will be set by the Governing Board sub-group after consultation with the external adviser and the Headteacher. Should agreement not be reached between the Headteacher and governors, the sub-group of governors may determine the objectives. In line with the section on representation and appeals, if the Headteacher believes the objectives are not suitable she should raise the matter with the Chair of Governors in writing, in the first instance.

Objectives for each teacher will be set before, or as soon as practicable after, the start of each appraisal period. The objectives set for each teacher, will be Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic and Time-bound and will be appropriate to the teacher's role and level of experience. In setting the objectives, appraisers will have regard to the context of the teacher and the demands of the objectives.

The appraiser and appraisee will seek to agree the objectives. Objectives may be revised if circumstances change. The Headteacher will moderate the appraisal process to ensure objectives are consistent between teachers with similar experience and levels of responsibility. If agreement cannot be reached between the appraiser and appraisee, the appraiser will determine the objectives but the final decision rests with the Headteacher, through the moderation process.

The measures of success for meeting the objectives should be made clear to the teacher and recorded. Teachers and their appraisers may identify expected sources of evidence for achievement of objectives and fulfilment of relevant standards but this will not preclude the addition of other sources of relevant information that may become available.

The objectives set for each teacher will, if achieved, contribute to improving the education of pupils at the school and the implementation of any plan of the Governing Board designed to improve educational provision and performance. This will be ensured by the headteacher (or for the headteacher's objectives, by the sub-group with the external adviser's help) quality assuring all objectives against the school improvement plan. The teacher's professional aspirations will be taken into account when setting objectives.

There is no defined number of objectives to be set for each teacher. It is recognised that some objectives incorporate greater scope and breadth than others. It is expected that objectives will reflect the range of each teacher's role, responsibilities and working time. At Buxton Infant School teachers will usually be set three objectives the first two often being similar for the whole teaching staff reflecting the main focus of the SIP and the third being individual to the particular teacher. Teachers with a TLR responsibility may have a greater number of objectives to reflect their additional responsibilities.

Appraisers will consider whether reasonable adjustments to the objectives are appropriate, in the light of an individual's circumstances, for instance where the teacher has a disability or has experienced long term absence.

Before, or as soon as practicable after, the start of each appraisal period, each teacher/headteacher will be informed of the standards against which that teacher's performance in that appraisal period will be assessed. All teachers, including headteachers who teach, must be assessed against the set of standards contained in the document called "Teachers' Standards" which came into effect from September 2012 and, where relevant, against other sets of standards published by the Secretary of State that are relevant to them. Therefore, relevant teachers' performance will be considered against the Post Threshold Standards, Standards for Advanced Skills Teachers, Excellent Teachers and National Standards for Head Teachers. For QTLS holders, that may include the overarching professional standards for the lifelong learning sector, held by the Learning and Skills Improvement Service. (Headteachers will need to inform teachers holding QTLS whether they will be assessed against the Teachers' Standards or those provided by the Learning and Skills Improvement Service)

Observation

This school believes that observation of classroom practice and other responsibilities is important both as a way of assessing teachers' performance, in order to identify any particular strengths and areas for development they may have, and of gaining useful information which can inform school improvement more generally. All observation will be carried out in a supportive fashion, in an atmosphere of constructive engagement, collaboration and co-operation. Teachers and Teaching Assistants will receive oral and written feedback as soon as possible after their observation. Brief oral feedback will ALWAYS be given on the same day that the observation takes place. A designated meeting time will be set to discuss the findings of the observation and feedback will be accurate and clear.

In this school teachers' performance will be regularly observed but the amount and type of classroom observation will depend on the individual circumstances of the teacher and the overall needs of the school. Classroom observation will be carried out by those with QTS. (or QTLS where appropriate)

In general, observations will be multi-purpose and provide information regarding the teacher's strengths, achievement of objectives and standards, development needs as well as contributing to the school's quality assurance processes. The school will seek to minimise the total number of occasions on which teachers are observed by using the findings of each observation for other management requirements (like subject reviews) where possible. All foreseeable formal observations, to take place within the cycle, will be identified as early as possible within the appraisal cycle, so that unnecessary duplication can be avoided. Observations will not be arranged as a matter of routine but will have clear purpose, in relation to the teacher's development needs and/or the school's quality assurance programme. The school will seek to keep formal observations to three hours over the appraisal cycle unless concerns about the standards of teaching in a particular class necessitates more regular monitoring and support.

In addition to formal observation, head teachers or other leaders with responsibility for teaching standards may “drop in” in order to evaluate the standards of teaching and to check that high standards of professional performance are established and maintained. The length and frequency of “drop in” observations will vary depending on specific circumstances but will not replicate the length of formal observations. Staff will be made aware of the subjects that will be subject to drop ins at the beginning of a two-week period but will not have specific notice. Oral feedback will be given to teachers on the same day as the drop in and a brief written record of strengths and areas for development will be shared. Records of ‘drop ins’ will only be referenced in the appraisal process where a significant concern arises, which has also been identified in other evidence, such that the appraiser calls a formal meeting to address concerns regarding potential underperformance.

Teachers (including the head teacher) who have responsibilities outside the classroom should also expect to have their performance of those responsibilities observed and assessed.

It is recognised that there a variety of other sources of evidence to indicate the quality and impact of teaching in individual classes, key stages, teams, subjects and departments. The school aims to utilise a range of data, which is carefully evaluated, to identify progress, attainment and areas for improvement. Classroom observation is particularly important in identifying the specific strengths and areas for development of individual teachers. The school is committed to providing accurate feedback in order for teachers to benefit from support that is tailored to their professional development needs. The planned and focused sharing of staff’s strengths, to enhance the skills of colleagues, is believed to be one of the most powerful strategies for continuing professional development, promoting a culture of collaborative reflective practice.

Feedback from formal observations will be, referenced against the Teachers’ Standards (and other standards relevant to the individual) and appropriate development activities identified. It will also be graded using Ofsted criteria, in order for the school leadership to undertake necessary preparation for Inspection.

Development and Support

Appraisal is a supportive process which will be used to inform continuing professional development (CPD). The school wishes to encourage a culture in which all teachers take responsibility for improving their teaching through appropriate professional development. Opportunities for professional development will be linked to school improvement priorities and to the ongoing development needs and priorities of individual teachers. Teachers will be expected to evaluate the impact of their CPD and share their learning with colleagues, where appropriate, in line with the school’s approach to CPD. Self- evaluation of performance against the Teachers’ Standards and their own objectives will be incorporated into the appraisal process.

The school’s CPD programme will be informed by the training and development needs identified as part of the appraisal process. The Governing Board will take account of the resources needed for the operation of the appraisal process, in setting the school budget annually.

Where there are competing demands on the school budget with regard to the provision of CPD, a decision on the relative priority will be informed by the extent to which:

- a) The training/support will help the school achieve its priorities
- b) The identified CPD is essential for the appraisee to meet their objectives.

Account will be taken at the annual review of performance of whether the support/development recorded in the planning statement has been delivered.

Feedback and In-Year Monitoring

The appraiser and teacher will confirm to each other when any piece of evidence to be cited for appraisal purposes is identified.

Teachers will receive constructive feedback on their performance throughout the year and as soon as practicable after observation has taken place, or other evidence has come to light. Feedback will highlight particular areas of strength as well as any areas that need attention.

Interim meetings (twice a year) will be scheduled at the commencement of the cycle where progress towards the objectives will be reviewed, consideration given to any necessary adjustments and the provision/impact of development activities evaluated. If the achievement of objectives is not on track or other significant issues, in relation to meeting the Teachers' Standards are identified, plans will be adjusted to address the situation.

Refer to section on 'teachers experiencing difficulties' for the process of dealing with concerns about potential underperformance.

Annual Assessment

Each teacher's (& headteacher's) performance will be formally assessed in respect of each appraisal period. In assessing the performance of the head teacher, the Governing Board must consult the external adviser.

This assessment is the end point to the annual appraisal process, but performance and development priorities will be reviewed and addressed on a regular basis throughout the year in interim meetings which will take place, usually once a term. There should be no surprises concerning the overall assessment of a teacher's performance at the annual review meeting. The Governing Board or headteacher must,

- a) assess the teacher's performance of their role and responsibilities during the appraisal period against,
 - the standards applicable to that teacher
 - the teacher's objectives;
- b) assess the teacher's professional development needs and identify any action that should be taken to address them; and
- c) where relevant, include a recommendation relating to the teacher's pay.

The teacher will receive as soon as practicable, following the end of each appraisal period – and have the opportunity to comment in writing on - a written appraisal report. In this school, teachers will receive their written appraisal reports by 31 October (31 December for the head teacher). The appraisal report will include:

- details of the teacher's objectives for the appraisal period in question;
- an assessment of the teacher's performance of their role and responsibilities against their objectives and the relevant standards;
- an assessment of the teacher's training and development needs and identification of any action that should be taken to address them;
- a recommendation on pay where that is relevant (NB – pay recommendations need to be made by 31 December for head teachers and by 31 October for other teachers);
- a space for the teacher's own comments

The assessment of performance and of training and development needs will inform the planning process for the following appraisal period. It is expected that the discussion will include the utilisation and impact of training and development undertaken and any contribution the teacher has made to the development of a colleague(s). Appraisers may include reference to any significant impact in the appraisal report.

Pay Progression

Where a teacher is eligible, a recommendation on pay progression will be made by the appraiser based on the assessment of their performance against the agreed objectives and their responsibilities, the Teachers' Standards and any other relevant standards. The decision of the relevant Board will be made in accordance with the statutory criteria and guidance set out in the STPCD, where applicable.

Representation and Appeals

Any recommendation on pay will be referred by the head teacher to the Pay Committee (or other committee designated in the school's decisions concerning delegation of powers) of the Governing Board. The procedure for a teacher to make representations concerning a pay decision, or to appeal, is contained in the school's Pay Policy.

If a teacher wishes to request changes, or raise concerns, about any other aspect of the appraisal process and documentation they should write to the headteacher setting out their grounds within 10 days of receiving the statement of objectives and appraisal review statement. The headteacher will, if necessary, meet with the teacher and then determine whether any action should be taken or changes made. If the headteacher is the appraiser of the teacher, the letter should be submitted to the Chair of Governors, if the teacher is unable to resolve the matter informally with the headteacher. Likewise, a headteacher would write to the Chair with any concerns. The Chair of Governors may be advised by the school's Human Resources provider, when meeting with the teacher, if necessary, and reaching a decision on the representations. If the teacher (or Headteacher, if they have made representations concerning their Appraisal statement) remains unhappy they may appeal to a governors' committee, convened for the purpose. The appeal will follow the same process as detailed in the pay policy for pay appeals

4. Teachers Experiencing Difficulties

When responding to a teacher who is experiencing difficulties in meeting the requirements of their role and/or the Teachers' Standards (or other relevant standards), action will be taken to provide support and guidance, through the appraisal process, to enable their performance to improve and meet expectations.

Where there are concerns about any aspects of the teacher's performance the appraiser will meet the teacher formally to:

- give clear feedback to the teacher about the nature and seriousness of the concerns;
- give the teacher the opportunity to comment and discuss the concerns;
- make mutually suitable arrangements, or give 5 working days' notice, to meet the teacher to discuss targets for improvement and any support (e.g. coaching, mentoring, structured observations), that will be provided to help address those specific concerns;
- in consultation with the teacher at the above meeting, establish an action plan with clear expectations, success criteria and support to be provided;
- make clear in the plan how, and by when, the appraiser will review progress. It may be decided to revise objectives, and it will be necessary to define sufficient time for the necessary improvement (the amount of time will reflect the nature of the improvement required and the seriousness of the concerns);
- explain the implications and process if no – or insufficient – improvement is made.

The teacher's progress will continue to be monitored as part of the appraisal process and as detailed in the plan. The provision of the support will also be monitored. During this period, the teacher will be given feedback on progress and arrangements will be made to adjust the programme if there is good reason to do so. The period identified for the teacher's performance to improve and meet the standards needs to be reasonable and will depend on the circumstances.

When progress is reviewed at the conclusion of the period identified, if the appraiser is satisfied that the teacher has made, or is making, sufficient improvement, the appraisal process will continue as normal, with any remaining issues continuing to be addressed through that process. The teacher should be informed at the formal review meeting that no longer is there consideration of invoking the formal competence procedure.

Transition to Competence Procedure

If the appraiser is not satisfied with progress, the teacher will be notified in writing that a meeting to determine whether the formal competence procedure needs to be applied. They will be informed that if this decision is taken then the appraisal system will no longer apply and that their performance will be managed under the competence procedure.

Refer to Formal Competence Procedure for further details of conducting the formal meeting to consider application of the procedure. The teacher will receive at least 5 working days' notice of the meeting and may be assisted by a trade union representative or work colleague.

5. Monitoring and Evaluation of the Process & Policy

The Appeal process will be treated with confidentiality. However, the desire for confidentiality does not override the need for Quality Assurance of the operation and effectiveness of the appraisal system. The head teacher may review all teachers' objectives and appraisal records in order to check consistency of approach and expectation between different appraisers and to ensure that they comply with the policy. The Headteacher also needs to be aware of any pay recommendations that they have made in order to refer these to the pay committee. In addition, only the teacher's line manager(s) will be provided with access to the objectives and appraisal report, where it is necessary to enable the line manager to discharge their duties. The teacher will be informed when their appraisal report has been shared with a senior colleague.

The head teacher will make arrangements for the details of training and development needs to be communicated to anyone with responsibility in the school for the delivery of continuous professional development.

The Governing Board will monitor and evaluate the policy.

The Headteacher will provide the Governing Board with a written report on the operation of the school's appraisal policy annually. The report will not identify any individual by name. The report will include an assessment of any potential impact of the policy on employees with regard to the following characteristics:

- Race
- Sex
- Sexual Orientation
- Disability
- Religion & Beliefs
- Age
- Part-time Status
- Maternity and Pregnancy

The Headteacher will report on whether there have been any appeals or representations on an individual or collective basis on the grounds of alleged discrimination.

The report will include an assessment of the impact of appraisal on school improvement and details of the range of professional development delivered through the process. The Headteacher will make the Governing Board aware of any significant incidence of teachers not being provided with CPD, which was identified as necessary to the delivery of their objectives.

6. General Principles Underlying This policy

Confidentiality

The appraisal and formal competence processes will be treated with confidentiality. However, the desire for confidentiality does not override the need for the head teacher and governing Board to quality assure the operation and effectiveness of the appraisal system.

Consistency of Treatment and Fairness

The Governing Board is committed to ensuring consistency of treatment and fairness and will abide by all relevant equality legislation.

Definitions

Unless indicated otherwise, all references to “teacher” include the head teacher.

Delegation

Normal rules apply in respect of the delegation of functions by governing bodies, head teachers and local authorities.

Retention

The governing Board and head teacher will ensure that all written appraisal records are retained in a secure place for six years and then destroyed.

Adopted by the governing board of Buxton Infant School on 24th September 2019

Appendix 1 - Classroom Observation Protocol

The Governing Board is committed to ensuring that observation is developmental and supportive. The effective and efficient operation of the appraisal process requires lesson observation to be a confidential process of constructive engagement within an atmosphere of professional trust and co-operation. Accordingly those involved in the process will:

- carry out the role with professionalism, integrity and courtesy;
- seek to reach agreement in advance on how classroom observations will be carried out;
- evaluate objectively, taking account of any particular circumstances affecting the observation on the day;
- report accurately and fairly; and
- respect the confidentiality of the information gained.

Planning and Preparation

The Headteacher will:

- consult with teachers and union representatives concerning the overall pattern of observations for the academic year, seeking agreement,
- leave capacity for appraisers to agree with teachers the timing of any observation particular to that teacher's objectives,
- provide for those being observed for all purposes to receive final notice at least 5 working days in advance,
- arrange, as far as possible for observations to take place at a time agreed with the teacher,
- ensure there is a reasonable amount of time between observations,
- ensure classroom observation is undertaken solely by persons with qualified teacher status and the appropriate training and skills to undertake observation, provide constructive oral and written feedback, in the context of professional dialogue. The observer should be able to provide any consequent support for the teacher or ensure this need is addressed by the relevant staff member.

Planning for observation will take place at the start of the appraisal/performance management cycle and will include details of:

- the amount of observation,
- the focus of the observation,
- the maximum duration of the observation,
- when during the appraisal cycle the observation will take place and
- who will conduct the observation.

Information gathered during the observation will be used, as appropriate, for a variety of purposes including to inform school self- evaluation and improvement strategies, in accordance with the school's efforts to streamline data collection and minimize bureaucracy.

Conducting Observation

Time for preparation and feedback for classroom observation will be made available within the teacher's directed time, but not PPA time. The total period for observation arranged for any teacher will not exceed three visits per cycle, each of no more than an hour in length, having regard to the individual circumstances of the teacher. There is no requirement to use all of the three hours.

The amount of observation for each teacher should reflect, and be proportionate to, the needs of the individual and the school. In each case 'proportionate to need' will be determined by the particular role of the teacher, and the focus of their objectives.

Classroom Observations will only be undertaken by persons with QTS. Teachers with wider responsibilities, observed leading meetings/delivering INSET etc, may be observed by an appropriate line manager who does not hold QTS.

Oral feedback will be given as soon as possible after the observation and the appraiser will aim to provide this before the end of the following working day. Feedback will be given during directed time in a suitable, private environment. Written feedback will be provided within five working days of the observation taking place. If issues emerge from an observation that were not part of the focus of the observation, as recorded in Appraisal plan, these should also be covered in the written feedback and the appropriate action taken in accordance with the policy and guidance.

Neither pupils nor Governors will undertake observations, although governors may, by arrangement and agreement with the teacher(s) concerned, visit a lesson(s) to familiarise themselves with the school in operation or in connection with their link area.

Records

The written record of feedback will also include the date on which the observation took place, the lesson observed and the length of the observation. The teacher may add written comments on the feedback document. No written notes in addition to the written feedback will be kept. The appraiser will be given sufficient time within their working day to put in written form the conclusions and outcomes of the observation, where possible agreeing these with the teacher. It is recognised that an observation provides a 'snapshot', not an overview of a teacher's performance. Other information will be utilised to assess the teacher's overall effectiveness and the impact of their quality of teaching. Observation feedback will be formulated with reference to the Teachers' Standards (and any other standards applicable to the teacher) relevant to the activities observed. Any use of Ofsted grades is to enable headteachers to report generic quality of teaching information to the Governing Board, identify school development needs and prepare the school for Inspection.

Teachers will be provided with all written accounts of observations.

Classroom Observation and Formal Capability Procedures

Where evidence emerges about the appraisee's performance which gives rise to concern during the cycle, additional observations to those recorded at the beginning of the cycle may be arranged, subject to a formal review meeting being held in accordance with the policy.

For teachers entering the 'Teachers Experiencing Difficulty' section of the Appraisal Policy or already on a formal capability procedure, an important part of the support offered will be a clearly defined amount of classroom observation, with structured oral and written feedback. The amount of observation will be discussed with the teacher and (as indicated in the Teachers Experiencing Difficulty appendix) their union representative.

Appendix 2 - Appraisal- Teachers Experiencing Difficulties

Advice on Informal Structured Support and Monitoring

The school's appraisal policy details the necessary process and steps to be taken to address any identified underperformance issues within appraisal. This document provides additional advice and guidance for schools in implementing informal structured support and monitoring for relevant teachers.

It is important that the 'Teachers Experiencing Difficulties' section of the Appraisal Policy is read first.

Preamble

1. Underperformance or lack of competence may affect teachers at all levels any time in their careers and such teachers are entitled to sympathetic consideration and active support from colleagues in the school. This procedure deals with identifying the nature of the problems, the needs of the teacher and establishing an appropriate support programme.
2. The nature of concern about performance or omission, its level of seriousness and cause(s), must be communicated at the outset to the teacher, investigated and identified by structured information gathering and systematic recording.
3. The Appraiser must inform the Headteacher when they develop concerns about the performance of a teacher, such that they are contemplating a review meeting to consider implementation of a structured support and monitoring programme. Likewise, a Headteacher or senior leader who identifies significant concerns about a teacher's performance should ensure the appraiser is informed and that appropriate measures are taken.
4. The Headteacher will need to ensure that the Appraiser has the necessary knowledge, skills and experience to determine an appropriate structured support and monitoring programme and its implementation. The Headteacher should review whether:
 - the appraisal process has been operated fairly and appropriately so far
 - whether the teacher has received appropriate, timely feedback and clarity on the expected standards of performance and
 - relevant CPD, through the performance management process and provision linked to school priorities (SIP) in recent cycle(s).

5. The Headteacher should ensure that the teacher is involved in determining an appropriate support programme. It should be stressed that the aim of the support programme is to help the teacher to improve and develop the performance of his/her duties in the interests of the pupils, teacher and the school as a whole. Ideally the action plan should be agreed with the teacher.
6. Advice on these procedures may be sought from the CAYA HR Advice and Guidance Service (for subscribing schools), at this stage.

Identifying the Problems

1. Where there is any concern about a teacher's professional performance it is necessary, at the outset, to identify any specific problems being encountered by the teacher.
2. Where there is evidence from a G.P. and/or the Authority's Occupational Health Physician that health may be a factor impairing work performance, their advice will be sought:

- To ensure the teacher is fit for work and the duties of a teacher
 - To seek recommendations as to whether any reasonable adjustments should be considered to enable the teacher to fulfil their duties.
3. Consideration should also be given to whether there are any other school policies or procedures which are relevant to the circumstances and that they are applied appropriately.
(eg Stress Management, Management of Sickness Absence)
- 4 a) The appraisal process will be the key source of information that raises any concern and prompts a decision to investigate further. Annual, ongoing evaluation of a teacher's performance, in the context of the Teachers' Standards, conducted by the appraiser and through the teacher's self-evaluation, will clarify any areas of concern. Teachers will be assumed to be meeting the Teachers' Standards unless clear documented evidence to the contrary is provided.
- b) Evidence of unsatisfactory teaching from an Ofsted Inspection or HMI visit may provide information about a teacher's performance which raises, or contributes to, the identification of a concern and/or the need to investigate further. It is acknowledged that this is only an example of the teacher's practise and may just relate to an aspect of performance. Therefore the decision to investigate and address a concern would only arise where there is other evidence that suggests there is an ongoing problem.
- c) Observation within the teaching situation by a senior member of staff and/or an Adviser may assist in clarifying the precise nature and origin of the difficulties. Where this is in addition to the observations identified within the original appraisal programme, these should be arranged in consultation with the teacher concerned wherever possible.
- d) Observation reports will be supplemented by all available information from the school's Quality Assurance systems and, in particular, pupil outcomes.

In assessing how serious are the identified performance concerns, impact on pupils' learning will be a key consideration. Performance concerns, in relation to additional responsibilities of teachers and senior leaders may also arise and would, likewise, need to be identified and evidenced.

5. It is important that the teacher knows at the outset what is expected of them. During the annual appraisal meeting the appraiser should check that the teacher is clear on:
- the responsibilities of their job (is the Job description up to date?)
 - the standards expected in the job (Teachers Standards 2012 for all teachers, except QTLS holders, and Post Threshold, AST standards etc., where relevant)
 - the person to whom he/she is responsible for the job (line manager)

If the person specification for the job is available this would also help to clarify the competence requirements in terms of knowledge, skills and experience.

Timescale

The timescale adopted will be in accordance with the seriousness of the identified underperformance. The period given within the Appraisal process for significant improvement to take place would normally be 10 weeks and not less than 6 weeks. (see Flowchart for overview)

It is strongly advised that an interim review is scheduled for around 6 weeks into the programme. This will enable the appraiser and teacher to establish whether expected progress is underway and whether any adjustments to the plan should be made. If the appraiser identifies concerns that reasonable progress is not being made they should inform the Headteacher, who is advised to take action as detailed in paragraph 5 below. This will involve initiating a new 10 week programme or, in extreme cases, where there are health and safety concerns and the learning of pupils is jeopardised, a maximum of 4 weeks will be allowed for improvement to take place. The level of improvement would need to be such that the health and safety issues are resolved and learning is taking place. Where this is not secured, a meeting will be called to consider the application of the Formal Competence procedure.

Where there is evidence that sufficient improvement is taking place the programme of structured support and monitoring may continue for, up to, a total of 10 weeks aimed at securing performance at the expected standard.

Action

1. Having identified any concerns about performance through everyday staff management and appraisal, a teacher should have the opportunity to explain the reasons for the concerns and have an opportunity to address the situation.
2. Details of any concern about performance will be brought to the teacher's attention. The Appraiser will record any action taken and the teacher's response when explanation is sought. The teacher will be informed that he or she has a responsibility to achieve a professionally acceptable standard. The teacher will be informed what is required, how their performance will be reviewed, the period of review, what support will be available and that application of the Formal Competence Procedure will need to be considered if there is insufficient improvement. Subsequent advice and support may achieve the desired and agreed changes in performance.
3. It is anticipated that most concerns will be dealt with through this management process and within appraisal.
4. Where the cause of the criticism or complaint concerning a teacher's professional competence continues, further action will be necessary to deal with the specific problems which are being encountered by the teacher and which are a cause of concern. If the teacher has not been willing to co-operate in addressing the concerns this may be regarded as misconduct, leading potentially to action under the school's disciplinary procedures.
5. The period of informal support and counselling should not go on for too long. The period of informal support should therefore be no longer than 10 weeks and less may sometimes be appropriate. There should be a clear indication of improvement. As noted above, an interim review should be held around 6 weeks into the plan. Where the appraiser then informs the Headteacher that little progress has been achieved, the head is advised to call a meeting outside of the appraisal process with the teacher, their representative and the appraiser. The head may be supported by their HR adviser.

The purpose of the meeting is for the head to assess the overall situation, receive the views of the teacher and their representative about the process they are undergoing and consider the wider context of the teacher and school. As a consequence, the head should review the process and plan for improvement. This meeting enables the union representative to be fully informed of their member's situation, to advise their member accordingly and provide their professional input, including seeking to reach agreement on the objectives and monitoring arrangements, ensuring the programme of support is the most effective and relevant possible. As outlined above, two outcomes are possible:-

- a) Taking account of the additional information available, a revised 10 week programme should be adopted. It is good practice for this to be agreed with the teacher. During the programme for improvement an interim review with the teacher, appraiser, union representative and HR officer is advised. At end of the agreed period (normally 10 weeks), a further meeting outside of appraisal should be held with the same relevant parties to assess whether the changes have enabled the programme of support delivered to have been appropriate and robust. An assessment will be made of the teacher's progress.

If the standards are now being met, the normal appraisal process would then continue. If there has been significant improvement and standards are nearly met, the Headteacher has the option to instigate a further 6 to 10 week programme of monitoring and review to enable the teacher to fully meet agreed expectations and show these can be sustained.

- b) Alternatively, the Headteacher may assess that the situation is exceptional and so serious (as described above) that a 4 week programme to seek resolution of Health and Safety concerns and/or ensure that pupil learning is taking place should be applied.

Outcomes

A formal review meeting will be held at the end of the adopted period of view and assessment, involving observation and collection of a range of other information illustrating the quality of performance. A firm conclusion should be reached and the outcome will be one of the following:

- i) Confirmation that the expected standards have been reached and that the normal appraisal cycle will continue.
- ii) Extension to the period of informal support to allow time for further improvement. This would be appropriate where significant improvement has been demonstrated, yet further development in performance is necessary to meet all the required standards and for the teacher to demonstrate they can sustain these independently. The extension would be of 6 to 10 weeks in length. The Appraiser/Headteacher will take account of any previous extensions to the programme of support and monitoring.
- iii) The calling of a formal meeting to consider the implementation of the Formal Competence Procedure. (details of the requirements to fulfil and guidance on arrangements can be found in both the Appraisal Policy and Competence Procedure)

Making it work

Identifying the Problems

The following may help in determining what exactly is contributing to the performance issues and thus the considerations that should inform any action to address.

- What is the wider context – the school's situation, turbulence, vulnerability to Ofsted judgement?
- New leadership in the school or new Appraiser? How robust/shared are judgements and strength of school's Quality Assurance processes?
- Individual teacher – new to school or to role? Career stage and previous 'judgements'/indicators of performance? Is this the first time any issues have been raised in any way? Has something changed suddenly or over time? Has all feedback from various sources been accurate, fair and honest (in terms of what is included or significant omissions)?

- Individual teacher- personal circumstances (where shared by teacher), health issues, commitment demonstrated to their role and the school, self-evaluation?
- What are relationships like between colleagues and what support is available within the school? Are all teachers clearly subject to the same expectations?

Action

- ✓ Headteacher ensures Appraiser is suitable for the circumstances and has mentor support.
- ✓ Teachers' Standards are a regular reference point in the school and staff know what meeting the teaching standards looks like in terms of the day to day practice in the school (not treating them as a checklist), using the school's own systems/policies. (E.g. Teaching and Learning Policy, assessment routines and moderation, behaviour procedures etc.)
- ✓ A richness of data is used to identify specifically what needs to improve.
- ✓ An action plan format would facilitate the detailing of the necessary components of the support and monitoring process, with a range of evidence and concrete success criteria to ensure clarity of expectations for all parties.
- ✓ The original appraisal objectives may be revised or elaborated and broken down into actions.
- ✓ A systematic, incremental approach is recommended.
- ✓ Listen to what the teacher thinks about the type of support/training they find most helpful in determining what, of the available choices, should be incorporated into the plan. Familiarity in the school with self-evaluation, peer working, coaching and the use of leading professionals to develop other's practise will broaden the strategies available. Cluster and other networks may provide other sources of support.
- ✓ Strongly advise the teacher to consult with their union/professional association for advice/guidance on making best use of the programme of structured support and monitoring during appraisal. They could share the plan with their representative and bring back any suggestions for consideration. The involvement of the union/professional association is usually very helpful in ensuring the action taken is appropriate and as effective as possible. In exceptional cases the union may have a concern about the way the process is being applied and, in these circumstances should request a meeting with the Headteacher. The head should then seek advice from CAYA HR Advice and Guidance Service in assessing whether any revisions should be made. Use of a meeting called by the head, outside of the appraisal process enables all information and views to be considered by the head in ensuring the process being applied to the teacher is fair and robust. Should a formal meeting to consider entry into the Competence Procedure then subsequently be necessary, it is less likely that issues will emerge that require the earlier steps to be repeated.
- ✓ Build in regular, constructive feedback throughout the programme so that success is recognised and built upon, the effectiveness of the support is monitored and amendments can be considered as soon as is necessary.
- ✓ Allow time for the support to be digested by the teacher, for reflection with the person providing support and for further development/embedding of the improvement to practise. An initial period for improvement of around 6 weeks should be sufficient to demonstrate whether the process adopted is effective and any outstanding improvement still required is likely to be secured through a short extension to the plan.

- ✓ Ensure the teacher understands that models of good practise are provided to help them and illustrate how the desired pupil learning may be achieved but that it is their responsibility to take ownership of the process, such that their practise is effective in securing the learning of the pupils they teach.
- ✓ Although the role of the Appraiser, in setting/agreeing the plan with the teacher and assessing improvement, is separate from the teacher's mentor (who provides and manages support) they need to be very consistent in their understanding of the expectations sought.
- ✓ Consider whether further personal/welfare support is required.
