Acceptable Use of IT, the Internet and Electronic Communication Policy

1. Introduction

The School's IT resources are essential to the effective delivery of educational provision. Computers and other networked facilities, including internet access, are available to staff and pupils within the school and should be used to promote educational learning. It is therefore vital that all staff, agents and contractors are aware of the School's policies and procedures relating to the use of IT resources. A poorly administered network or weak password controls could expose the School's information to an unauthorised user or introduce a virus infection.

2. Scope

- This policy applies to all technology and communications equipment provided by Derbyshire County Council/School (e.g PCs, laptops, PDAs, Palm computers, mobile phones with Internet access etc).
- Any personal or potentially personal information sent via e-mail and the Internet is covered by GDPR 2018. The Act requires all employees to take special care when handling personal information.
- E-mails may be covered by the Freedom of Information Act and are disclosable as part of legal proceedings. Employees should exercise the same caution when writing e-mails as they would in more formal correspondence.
- Use of e-mail and the Internet, which brings the County Council/school into disrepute, may result in disciplinary action.
- Limited use of the Internet and e-mail is permitted subject to these principles:
 - E-mail: Employees are allowed limited use of e-mail for personal communication
 - Internet: Personal use of the Internet is permitted outside normal working hours
 - Any personal use must not, in any way, distract employees from the effective performance of their duties

3. Use of Internet, E-Mail and other Electronic Communication

Internet and Email use is integral to the effective delivery of educational services provided by the school. Nothing in this policy should be read as restricting the proper use of email and Internet for School activities. Limited personal use of School's Internet and Email system is permitted subject to these principles and guidance notes.

Email

- 3.1 Where possible, personal use of email should be in employees' own time. Limited use of email during the working day is allowed, but should be restricted to a few minutes a day to respond to urgent incoming email and should not be used when teaching or supervising pupils.
Excessive use of email is not allowed and may result in disciplinary action.

- 3.2 While personal use of the Internet and email is permitted during lunch breaks and out of working hours, staff should be aware that the facilities are provided by the school and any activity received/sent through the school's network, personal or otherwise, is recorded and will be monitored.
- 3.3 Staff should not engage in 'recreational' chatting during working time, on email or through instant messaging, that results in lost productivity or distracts other employees from their work. The school's facilities must never be used for the passing of inappropriate personal information of any kind.
- 3.4 Email is now used widely to communicate both internally and externally, providing rapid circulation and many positive benefits. Staff should, however, remain aware of their professional position when communicating via email. When email is used to communicate with students, parents or carers as part of a professional role, a school email address should always be used. The style and format of any such communication should follow guidelines provided by the school. Staff should consider whether it is advisable to copy a colleague into any contact with a pupil or parent as a further safeguard.

Staff should be aware that email is not always the best form of communication and should consider alternatives, as appropriate.

- 3.5 Improper statements in email can give rise to personal liability and liability for the school and may constitute a serious disciplinary matter. Emails that embarrass, misrepresent or convey an unjust, or unfavourable, impression of the school or its business affairs, employees, suppliers and their families are not permitted.
- 3.6 Extreme care must be taken when using the school's email facilities to transmit information. Confidential or sensitive information should not be sent via the Internet or email unless the data is protected by the school's secure provision for such communications. Staff should remember that when a Subject Access Request or Freedom of Information request is submitted relevant email communications will be included in the material to be provided.
- 3.7 Employees must not use e-mail in any way that is insulting or offensive.
- 3.8 Employees must not deliberately view, copy or circulate any material that:
- could constitute bullying
 - is sexually explicit or obscene
 - is racist, sexist, homophobic, harassing or in any other way discriminatory or offensive
 - contains material the possession of which would constitute a criminal offence
 - promotes any form of criminal activity
 - contains unwelcome propositions
 - contains images, cartoons or jokes that will cause offence
 - appears to be a chain letter
- Personal use of Internet

- Use of the Internet is limited to employees' own time.
- Use of the Internet via County Council or school equipment should exclude use for trading or personal business purposes.
- Use of the Internet to buy goods or services will not render the County Council or school liable for default of payment or for the security of any personal information disclosed. Staff are advised not to use the school's computer system for making payments.
- Personal goods ordered may be delivered to the school address.

3.9 Site Contents

Many Internet sites contain unacceptable contents. Employees must not deliberately view, copy or circulate any material that:

- is sexually explicit or obscene
- is racist, sexist, homophobic, harassing or in any other way discriminatory or offensive
- contains material, the possession of which would constitute a criminal offence
- promotes any form of criminal activity
- contains images, cartoons or jokes that will cause offence
- that constitutes bullying

3.10 Accidental Access to Inappropriate Material

Many internet sites that contain unacceptable content are blocked automatically by the school's filtering systems. However, it is not possible to block all 'unacceptable' sites electronically in all circumstances. If staff become aware of any sites that require re-categorisation they should inform the school's IT technician as soon as possible. Employees may receive an e-mail or visit an Internet site that contains unacceptable material. If this occurs, a line manager or the headteacher should be informed as soon as possible. The headteacher will use their professional judgement whether to report the matter further. In this situation the staff member should ensure a short written record is kept as they may be asked to provide details relating to the incident and an explanation of how it occurred. This information may be required later for management or audit purposes.

3.11 Copyright

Employees may be in violation of copyright law if text is simply cut and pasted into another document. This may equally apply to photographs and music samples used as illustration or backing track in resource materials. Teachers should make it clear to pupils that care should be taken when including this type of material in any school or exam work. Most sites contain a copyright notice detailing how material may be used. If in any doubt about downloading and using material for official purposes, legal advice should be obtained. Unless otherwise stated on the site all down loaded material must be for curricular or research purposes and must not be passed to third parties.

Downloading of video, music files, games, software files and other computer programs – for non-work related purposes-is not allowed. These types of files consume large quantities of storage space on the system and may violate copyright laws.

4. Safe Working Practice

- 4.1 Staff should make careful, considerate use of the school's IT resources, report faults and work in a way that minimises the risk of introducing computer viruses into the system.
- 4.2 Staff are responsible for maintaining the security of computers and networks by only using their own logon details and not allowing other staff or pupils to use their personal passwords. Staff should ensure that machines are not left unattended when they are logged on.
- 4.3 Staff should ensure as far as possible, that when using work equipment at home, other family members do not use the equipment for their personal use. Staff are responsible for all the content (software and data) on any equipment allocated to them.

Staff should not install any unlicensed software on machines allocated to them.
- 4.4 Staff must make every endeavour to protect students from harmful or inappropriate material accessible via the Internet or transportable on computer media, in compliance with the school's system.

5. Virtual Learning Environments (VLE)

- 5.1 As many schools now provide 24 hour access to a wide range of information – including resource materials, pupil data, school policies – it is essential that clear guidelines are in place for the use of the VLE or portal, by both staff and pupils.

Network managers have a duty to ensure that the site access is secure with passwords providing differing levels of access to staff and students.
- 5.2 There must be no expectation by the school that staff will be available outside normal working hours just because they are able to access the VLE from home. There will therefore be no expectation, other than by agreement, that staff will respond to email or other messages, sent outside the working day, before the start of the next working day. It will be made clear to parents that if pupils are posting work on the site, or emailing work directly to a member of staff, that there must be no expectation of an immediate response.
- 5.3 Access to a VLE from outside school should not be a reason to reduce timescales for completion of work by either staff or pupils. For example, the same amount of time should be allowed for completion of annual reports if done on-line through the VLE as that allocated previously for hand-written reports.

6. Social Media

(Some of the content in section 6 utilises and builds on the Kent County Council/The Education People online safety policy template, with their permission.)

6.1 Definitions:

For the purposes of this policy, social media is a type of interactive online media that allows parties to communicate instantly with each other, or to share data in a public forum. This includes online social forums such as Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, internet newsgroups, blogs, wikis, bulletin boards, video/photo sharing sites and chatrooms. Social media also covers blogs and video-and image-sharing websites such as YouTube and Flickr.

There are many more examples of social media than can be listed here and this is a constantly changing area. These guidelines should be followed in relation to any social media used. This policy applies to the misuse of social media for both business and personal purposes, whether during working hours or otherwise.

The use of sites such as Facebook, MSN, Messenger, Twitter, Skype and many others (such as on-line gaming through Xbox or PlayStation live) is now increasingly widespread. However, as well as bringing many positive benefits, there are also many potential problems. The following guidance is given to all staff and pupils for their own protection. The guidance should apply whether the staff member is using school hardware or their own personal hardware (computer, phone, console etc.)

‘Libel’ and ‘Defamation’

Libel and Defamation are complex areas of law. Legal advice should be sought where Libel and/or Defamation are believed to have occurred.

6.2 Personal Safety and Protection:

At all times, staff should be aware of the School’s expectations, as defined in all relevant policies, of professional adults working with children. Safe and responsible use of social media will be discussed with all members of staff as part of induction and revisited regularly. This document describes safe and professional behaviour in relation to social media.

Online conduct can have an impact on the role and reputation of staff members. Employees who work directly with members of the public, including parents, need to be aware that the information they post on their profile can make them identifiable to members of the wider school community as well as people they know in a private capacity.

Staff are advised to safeguard themselves and their privacy when using social media sites. Areas of which to be mindful:-

- Setting the privacy levels of personal sites
- Being aware of location sharing services

- Opting out of public listings on social networking sites
- Logging out of accounts after use
- Keeping passwords safe and confidential
- Not representing personal views as those of the school.

Employees should therefore consider this when setting up their profile, particularly in relation to; the use of a photograph, providing details of their occupation, employer and work location.

Staff should consider very carefully any conflict of interest when linking through social media to people they also know through work. The School considers it would be inappropriate to have pupils as 'friends' through social media, and consequently, to do so may be considered to be a disciplinary matter. Staff are advised not to communicate, or add as 'friends' any past learners or their family members via social media sites. Staff should be aware of the potential risks of communicating with current and ex-pupils in ways which may be considered as inappropriate – particularly if it could be shown that the adult/pupil relationship of trust had been breached. The School requires staff to only use school platforms to communicate with pupils, in line with the Safeguarding Policy.

Staff should report any inappropriate contact from pupils and parents/carers to a member of the Senior Leadership Team at the earliest opportunity to prevent situations from escalating. (See paragraph 6.9 for support for staff.)

Many staff will use social networking outside of work to keep in touch with family, friends or activity groups. For some staff in particular, there may be occasions when contacts within these situations result in links between staff and pupils at the school (for example where there is a pre-existing friendship with the parent of a pupil). Staff should ensure that in such circumstances they are able to make a professional distinction between their role as a 'friend' outside work and their role within work and clarify their position to such contacts. It is expected that such exceptions will be discussed with the Headteacher.

Online sites such as Facebook are in the public domain, and personal profile details can be seen by anyone, even if users have their privacy settings on the highest level. Also if a user's profile is linked to other sites, any changes to their profile will be updated there too. Staff who have set their privacy level to the maximum can have their privacy compromised by 'friends' who may not have set their security to the same standard and therefore comments, photographs or video clips sent to such contacts may be more widely available than originally anticipated.

Staff should be aware of the image they are presenting when communicating via such media and ensure, as far as possible, that any comments made are not open to misinterpretation. Circulation of comments on such media can be rapid and widespread and therefore staff should be encouraged to adopt the general premise of not putting anything on such a site (or in an email) that they would not put in a formal letter, be prepared to say in a face-to-face conversation or discuss in a public place.

6.3 Personal Accountability and Responsibility:

All staff are expected to behave appropriately and responsibly, and should be aware that they may be accountable to the School for actions outside of their work.

This policy clarifies that online conduct is the employee's responsibility, and it is important that staff are aware that posting information on social networking sites cannot be isolated from their working life.

Any information published online can be accessed around the world within seconds and will be publicly available for all to see, and is not easy to delete/withdraw once published. The School views any comment that is made on a social media site as made publicly, and that any inappropriate comment made, will be considered in the context of which it is made. Staff are advised to be mindful that nothing on a social media site is 'private' so comments made must still meet the standards of the Staff Code of Conduct and other relevant policies.

Staff may be accountable for actions outside of work, including making comments on social media sites, if that is contrary to any of School's policies, impacts on or compromises the employee's ability to undertake their role, or undermines management decisions. Such behaviour would be investigated and may result in disciplinary action being taken, and ultimately could result in dismissal.

The Headteacher and Governors will give consideration, when reaching decisions relating to potential disciplinary cases for breach of such a code, to the difficulty of staff members in 'controlling their image' all the time, and that manipulation by others is extremely easy. The Head/Governors will give consideration to whether the 'image' had been created voluntarily by the member of staff.

Staff are reminded that, as a safeguarding issue, they should always be careful about who they are 'talking to'. It is very easy to hide an identity in an on-line conversation.

The School views any comment that is made on social media to, potentially, have been made publicly. However, any inappropriate comment be considered in the context in which it is made. Members of staff should inform the headteacher if they consider any content shared on a social media site potentially conflicts with their role.

Staff should be aware that all comments made through social media must meet the standards of the relevant legislation and regulations, including data protection legislation (GDPR 2018) and the expectations of staff conduct as expressed in the school's policies for the management of Human Resources.

6.4 Any Communications that staff make through social media must not:

- bring the school into disrepute, for example by:
- criticising, disagreeing or arguing with parents, colleagues or managers
- making defamatory comments about individuals or other organisations/groups;

- posting images that are inappropriate or links to inappropriate content;
- breach confidentiality, for example by:
- referring to or sharing confidential information, including photographs and personal information about individuals (such as pupils, their family members or colleagues) or the School.
- do anything that could be considered discriminatory against, or bullying or harassment of, any individual or group of individuals, and in contravention of the School's policies, for example by:
- making offensive or derogatory comments relating to sex, gender reassignment, race (including nationality), disability, sexual orientation, religion or belief or age;
- using social media to bully another member of the school community (*'a member of the school community' is defined as including pupils, all employees of the school, volunteers helping at the school, supply and peripatetic staff, parents/ carers and extended family members of pupils, governors, individuals and members of organisations providing a service to the school (eg sports coach, visitor invited to provide input to students)); or
- posting images that are discriminatory or offensive or links to such content.
 - take other action that impacts on the employee's ability to do their job, for example by:
- online activity that is incompatible with the position they hold in the School
- any breach occurring inside or outside the workplace that is likely to affect the employee doing his/her work.
 - contravene the School's policies, for example;
- the Harassment and Bullying policy, or the Equality and Diversity Policy.

While use of the school's facilities to express personal views is inappropriate and unacceptable, it is recognised that individuals have a right to enter general political discourse, using their own accounts and in non-working time. It would still be important to make it clear that a personal view is being expressed and any extreme statements, as listed above, would contravene this policy.

The above bulleted examples are not a definitive list of the misuse of social media, but are examples to illustrate what misuse may look like. Staff are encouraged to talk to their Headteacher and seek advice if they are unclear.

6.5 Official Use of Social Media

Staff who use social media as part of their job must adhere to the School policy. Employees must be aware that they are representing the School and use the same safeguards as they would with any other form of communication about the organisation in the public domain.

- Buxton Infant School official social media channels are:

- Facebook – Buxton Infant School PTA page which is a closed group
- Whatsapp – Governors group which is a closed group and Lockdown group which is a closed group
- Tapestry – Individual logins for each staff member/parent
- The official use of social media sites only takes place with clear educational or community engagement objectives, with specific intended outcomes.
- Official social media channels have been set up as distinct and dedicated social media site for engagement purposes only.
 - All communication on official social media platforms will be clear, transparent and open to scrutiny.
- Parents and carers will be informed of any official social media use with learners; written parental consent will be obtained, as required.
- We will ensure that any official social media use does not exclude members of the community who are unable or unwilling to use social media channels.

Staff expectations

- Members of staff who follow and/or like our official social media channels will be advised to use dedicated professional accounts, where possible, to avoid blurring professional boundaries.
- If members of staff are participating in online social media activity as part of their capacity as an employee of the setting e.g. PTA Facebook Page, they will:
 - Always be professional and aware they are an ambassador for the setting.
 - Disclose their official role and/or position but make it clear that they do not necessarily speak on behalf of the setting.
 - Always be responsible, credible, fair and honest, and consider how the information being published could be perceived or shared.
 - Always act within the legal frameworks they would adhere to within the workplace, including: libel, defamation, confidentiality, copyright, data protection and equalities laws.
 - Ensure that they have appropriate consent before sharing images on the official social media channel.
 - Not disclose information, make commitments or engage in activities on behalf of the setting, unless they are authorised to do so.
 - Inform their line manager, the DSL (or deputy) and/or the headteacher of any concerns, such as criticism, inappropriate content or contact from learners.

Many social media complaints arise out of parental frustrations and because parents may feel that they are not listened to or valued by schools and may set up unofficial and unapproved Facebook pages or groups. In some cases Facebook pages or groups may be set up and run via parent teacher associations or other similar groups. The LA advises that schools do not set up a Facebook page as the style of this platform could encourage the posting of informal comments and complaints. It may encourage the blurring of boundaries and appropriate channels of communication. Also any editing of entries by the headteacher could lead to challenge and allegations of bias.

6.6 Access to Social Media at Work, for Personal Use:

Staff are not allowed to access social media websites for personal use from the school's computers or devices during working hours (contact time for teachers and teaching assistants), and they must not be left running "in the background", whilst at work.

Leaving social media sites 'running' constantly in work's time is considered to be a breach of the acceptable use of this policy, and would be considered to be using school resources for personal use, in work's time, and such would be investigated under the Disciplinary procedure. These provisions also apply to personal computers and mobile devices.

6.7 Use of Personal Devices and Mobile Phones

Buxton Infant School recognises that personal communication through mobile technologies is an accepted part of everyday life for learners, staff and parents/carers, but technologies need to be used safely and appropriately within the setting.

Expectations

All use of personal devices (including but not limited to; tablets, games consoles and 'smart' watches) and mobile phones will take place in accordance with the law and other appropriate policies, such as anti-bullying, behaviour and child protection.

Electronic devices of any kind that are brought onto site are the responsibility of the user.

- All members of Buxton Infant School community are advised to take steps to protect their mobile phones or devices from loss, theft or damage; we accept no responsibility for the loss, theft or damage of such items on our premises.
- All members of Buxton Infant School community are advised to use passwords/pin numbers to ensure that unauthorised calls or actions cannot be made on their phones or devices; passwords and pin numbers should be kept confidential and mobile phones and personal devices should not be shared.
- Mobile phones and personal devices are not permitted to be used in specific areas within the site such as toilets.
- The sending of abusive or inappropriate messages or content via mobile phones or personal devices is forbidden by any member of the community; any breaches will be dealt with as part of our behaviour policy.
- All members of Buxton Infant School community are advised to ensure that their mobile phones and personal devices do not contain any content which may be offensive, derogatory or would otherwise contravene our behaviour or child protection policies.

Staff will be advised to:

- Keep mobile phones and personal devices in a safe and secure place during lesson times.
- Keep mobile phones and personal devices switched off or switched to 'silent' mode during lesson times.
- Not use personal devices during teaching periods, unless written permission has been given by the headteacher, except in emergency circumstances.
- Ensure that any content brought onto site via mobile phones and personal devices are compatible with their professional role and expectations.

Members of staff are not permitted to use their own personal phones or devices for contacting learners or parents and carers, except in cases of emergency. Any pre-existing relationships, which could undermine this, will be discussed with the DSL (or deputy).

Staff will not use personal devices:

- To take photos or videos of learners and will only use work-provided equipment for this purpose, unless authorised in writing by the headteacher, for specific purposes.
- Directly with learners and will only use work-provided equipment during lessons/educational activities.

If a member of staff breaches our policy, action will be taken in line with relevant school policies. If a member of staff is thought to have illegal content saved or stored on a mobile phone or personal device or have committed a criminal offence, the police will be contacted.

6.8 Responding to Online safety Incidents and Concerns

All members of the community will be made aware of the reporting procedure for online safety concerns, including: breaches of filtering, youth produced sexual imagery (sexting), cyberbullying and illegal content.

All members of the community must respect confidentiality and the need to follow the official procedures for reporting concerns.

Learners, parents and staff will be informed of our complaints procedure and Staff will be made aware of the whistleblowing procedure. We require staff, parents, carers and learners to work in partnership to resolve online safety issues. After any investigations are completed, we will debrief, identify lessons learnt and implement any policy or curriculum changes as required. We will refer to the flowchart on responding to incidents, made available. Where there is suspicion that illegal activity has taken place, we will follow the local safeguarding procedures which will include Police using 101, or 999 if there is immediate danger or risk of harm. If an incident or concern needs to be passed beyond our community (for example if other local settings are involved or the public may be at risk), the DSL or headteacher will speak with Call Derbyshire.

6.9 Dealing with Inappropriate References to the School or Staff

Members of staff who find that ‘friends’ have posted inappropriate material relating to themselves on a social media site should consider asking them and the site to remove it. Also consider informing the Headteacher if there is the potential for repercussions for the organisation.

If you find yourself the target of complaints or abuse on social networking sites you can take action yourself by using the mechanisms to report abusive activity. Most sites also provide some support for users who are subject to abuse. Again it is advisable to let the Headteacher know so you can benefit from their support.

However, if you find inappropriate references to you or the school posted by parents, colleagues, pupils or other members of the community, it is very important that you report this to the Headteacher as soon as possible. Do not attempt to address the situation yourself. The Headteacher will then respond to the situation and ascertain your support needs.

Advice for Headteachers - Introduction

In some cases, parents have bypassed the school's complaints procedures and taken to social networking sites to criticise and, in some cases, make malicious comments about individual members of staff or the community or regarding decisions that have been taken by the Headteacher.

In many ways the use of social networking sites to express these opinions is an extension of how people can already express their views on the internet. People use sites to review holiday accommodation and give assessments of products they have purchased. However, remarks made about a school, member of staff or child can be destabilising for a community and, in particular, for the professional status of staff members who may have had allegations made against them and the emotional well-being of children and young people who may have been identified. It can also lead to a ‘whispering campaign’ which can undermine the school leadership or target a particular child or family.

There is no single effective method of dealing with parents, carers, pupils or others who raise issues on social networking sites. However, schools can take a proactive approach to minimise such incidents rather than having to be reactive and put together a quick response to stop the spread of rumours. This guidance gives a number of approaches educational settings can use to deal with any problems as well as preventative approaches to help ensure that parents and carers follow the appropriate complaints procedure in the school.

Preventative Actions

Headteachers should seek to minimize the potential for parents, carers, pupils and others to post comments about the school and members of its community by setting out the implications in any relevant documentation, like the Home School Agreement and school brochure.

While it is difficult to monitor all parents’ use of social networking sites, it does show that the school takes this matter seriously and, the fact that parents have signed the agreement, means that they have a responsibility to act appropriately. Although the expectations of pupils not to misuse social media will be contained in other school policies it would be wise to include a reference in the Home School Agreement. It is important to include information about the appropriate means of raising concerns and the schools commitment to working co-operatively with parents. The complaints policy should be highlighted and easily accessible via the school’s website. Headteachers may also wish to draw attention to other related policies including anti-bullying, Safeguarding, online safety, data protection/security and confidentiality. It is advised that these documents also make reference to the potential implications of posting inappropriate comments about the school/staff/pupils/wider community members. The implications will include the detrimental effect on individuals, the reputation of the school and subsequent potential for the focus on children's learning to be impaired. (See suggested paragraph on page 24 which schools may wish to adapt)

It should be made clear that the school will not tolerate abuse of staff, as referenced in the notice displayed about behaviour on school premises (attached to Harassment and Bullying Policy), and will take any appropriate action. Schools may also wish to remind parents that they can "report" any unpleasant comments or content to Facebook or other social networking sites, who may remove comments and block/ban users who break these rules. Parents should also be aware of the importance of role modelling appropriate behaviour for their children online, much like they should offline. The use of social media should also be included in meetings for new parents, where it can be linked to the schools efforts to also protect children from cyber bullying.

Headteachers may want to consider implementing a range of routes to encourage parents to raise concerns directly with the school, for example ensuring a senior member of staff is available on the gate at the start and end of the school day, dedicated email accounts etc.

Leaders should ensure that all members of staff receive safeguarding training that is robust and up-to-date and covers online safety (as identified within 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' 2018). This training should include ensuring that all members of staff know how to respond to concerns they may see online in a way that supports the school and also does not compromise them.

Responding to Specific Concerns

It is important to acknowledge that each situation will be different and there may be various complicating factors which need to be taken into account.

However the following steps may be applied where appropriate:-

- Keep calm

Although sometimes difficult, it is essential that leaders ensure that their response to comments posted on social media is proportionate and impartial. A measured response is more likely to promote a positive outcome.

- Gather Evidence

It is important that any evidence is kept to enable schools to collate a record of events; this should include usernames, specific dates and times, as well as actions taken by the school. In many situations this will be a one off concern which can be resolved quickly, however in some situations this could be part of a bigger or ongoing issue; therefore a clear chronology will be helpful.

Where the Headteacher becomes aware of the posting of negative comments it is important to gather evidence (such as screen shots and print-outs, including times, dates and names where possible and ensuring the identity of the person who reported the issue is removed) and establish exactly what has been posted. This may have to be done through various methods as the information may have only been shared through the connections of specific people. However, it is important that evidence be submitted so that the facts can be established. Headteachers need to be very careful when utilising such material; that it is not shared inappropriately and confidentiality is maintained. When dealing with cases involving Facebook, a group of parents may have set up a site or closed/secret group to comment about or, in some cases, criticise the school or individual members of staff.

It is important that members of staff do not become embroiled in entering the discussion. The social media site is a public forum and anything written by the school can be utilised by the media or other interested party and may be misinterpreted or used for their own agenda. This advice is also applicable to the school's own social media platform, however it is a good idea to exercise the rites of the site administrator and remove unacceptable material. If the author is known the school can then make contact to address any issue through the normal communication channels. It is helpful if the school can monitor the 'feed' during weekends and holidays as otherwise inappropriate remarks could remain for longer than necessary.

- Reassuring Those Affected

If individual members of staff have been targeted or mentioned, then Headteachers will need to be mindful of their duty of care to those involved as there is a specific duty on employers to protect their staff from third party harassment. Appropriate support will depend on the nature of the concerns and the reaction of the individual. If the member of staff is already aware of the comments, then Headteachers should explain to them how they intend to address the concerns and offer support to them. Headteachers should encourage staff to let them know if there is any further support that they feel they need.

- Staff may wish to contact their professional/teaching union for additional support and guidance or access support via the Education Support Network: www.educationsupportpartnership.org.uk
- Staff and Headteachers can also access help via the Professional Online Safety Helpline: www.saferinternet.org.uk/about/helpline
- The school may also want to take further advice on this issue from their HR provider. If an allegation has been made then Headteachers will need to speak with the LADO.

If the member of staff is unaware of the comments, then Headteachers should consider if it is necessary to inform them, and if so, what would be the best approach. Headteachers are advised to discuss this with their HR provider, in the first instance.

- Meet with the Parents/Carers/Person Involved

Headteachers should contact the person concerned and invite them to a meeting to discuss any concerns they have. (Any member of staff who is the subject of the posts will not be asked to attend.) Demonstrating that such issues will be taken seriously, if properly raised, should serve to show that there is no need to express their concerns in such an inappropriate way. It may be that the reason why a parent or carer has made the comments online is due to being oblivious about the implications of doing so or because they are unaware of, or disillusioned with, the school's complaints procedure. An immediate response in writing can occasionally inflame situations (and indeed in some cases ends up being shared on social media itself) so a face to face or "offline" discussion is likely to have a more positive outcome. If multiple parents are involved then schools should consider how best to respond safely and effectively, whilst maintaining confidentiality. This may require multiple individual meetings with parents.

In these circumstances, the Headteacher is advised to be accompanied by a suitable leadership team colleague to express their disappointment with the current situation and explain that the school would like to work with them to resolve the problem that is obviously causing them distress. Headteachers should explain how this behaviour can have a detrimental impact on the school and potentially their children's education, while not allowing the school to actually address their concerns. At this stage, the Headteacher should request that any offending posts or pages are immediately removed and encourage the parents to work with the school. If appropriate, they can be signposted to the School Complaints procedure or other process to raise any relevant concerns they have regarding the school and its employees.

Parents should be made aware that comments posed online (even if made "privately") can easily be misread or misinterpreted and can also be shared without their knowledge or consent. Although it is essential not to cause any further problems, the professional status of staff and the school needs to be maintained and it cannot be compromised by any malicious comments or allegations. The school may want to warn the parents that any existing comments or a continuation of posts could lead to civil or criminal action being taken, although the school would prefer to avoid having to take this route.

If Headteachers think that a criminal offence has been committed, or believe that speaking directly to the parents would lead to a confrontation or offence being committed, then they should contact their Local Police contact to work together to support the school in discussing this with the parent concerned.

Where there are a number of parties exchanging comments and where the school has been informed that negative comments are being made but cannot view the thread, then it is recommended that a general letter to parents is considered reminding them of the detrimental effect on individuals, including pupils, and the school itself that posting negative and unsubstantiated comments may have. Parents can be reminded of the ease of approaching the school with any concerns and the appropriate channels for raising complaints.

Schools are strongly advised to contact the LA's public relations' 'Crisis Communications Team' to let them know of any inappropriate comments posted on social media, as journalists monitor accessible sites and will often contact the Authority about an issue they have picked up. It is very helpful for the team to be alerted to the situation and be ready to respond to any enquiries from the media. Those schools purchasing the traded service can access support in drafting a statement to be used, if necessary.

Resolving Difficult Situations

Where the school's actions have been unable to resolve the situation, to ensure that the parents understand the seriousness of the matter, a further meeting should be arranged, with the chair of Governors present, to convey the damage that these comments are having on the school community. It is essential that the chair of governors is fully briefed before the meeting and that a common approach is taken by the school to address this matter. Again, it gives an opportunity for the parents to share any grievances and for an action plan to be established to deal with any concerns expressed by them. If parents refuse to meet with the school, then the Headteacher/chair of governors may wish to send a letter, after taking advice from LA Legal Services (or other provider). The legislation providing grounds for challenging offensive posts on social media is complex and the composition of any communication sent to the individual(s) concerned needs to be considered on a case by case basis. (see 4th Bullet point below)

The Local Authority understands how upsetting the posting of critical, offensive and even threatening comments on social media can be. While headteachers will support members of staff during such situations, they may also need support themselves.

- Any threats of violence should be reported to the police and they should also be informed of any comments that could cause serious harassment, alarm or distress. Again, contact could be made with the local police liaison officer about whether there is the potential for harassment proceedings or whether any other offences have been committed, although the case may be categorised as a civil matter.
- Comments that are threatening, discriminatory, offensive, abusive or use foul language should be reported to the social media site with the request for them to be taken down. It is helpful to quote the site's own terms & conditions, highlighting where the remarks breach their policy. There is usually a button on the site to make such reports. Schools have to be aware that there will be a time delay in the review of this content and that if the content does not breach the terms and conditions, then the site administrators will not remove it. Forced removal of comments may only occur if the comments break the law or break the website's terms and conditions.
- It is advised that the Headteacher's response to the comments also takes into account how widely the remarks are published and whether there is some truth in the content, however inappropriately expressed.
- Those purchasing the LA Legal Service can obtain legal advice on specific individual cases, or on the phrasing of any general letter (or relevant section of a document). Where appropriate, Legal Services will advise the school on the composition of a letter to the individual posting the comments. They have drafts on file ready for adaptation to the school's particular situation.
- For headteachers serving in Maintained Schools the LA has a duty of care and speaking to the school's designated adviser may be the first contact in seeking support to tackle the issue. The adviser will also signpost relevant sources of support available.

The following traded services are available for help and advice as appropriate:

- LA Legal Services
- LA Public Relations 'Crisis Communications Team'
- Local Authority Occupational health can provide a link to a counselling service
- The school's HR provider is a good source of advice
- Headteachers may wish to discuss with their school's School Improvement Adviser.

Other sources of support include:

- The Education Support Partnership is available online
- Many colleagues belong to a professional association, through which specific advice and general welfare support can be accessed
- Staff and Headteachers can also access help via the Professional Online Safety Helpline: www.saferinternet.org.uk/about/helpline
- Childnet Teacher Guidance: www.childnet.com/teachers-and-professionals/for-you-as-a-professional
- The Department for Education Preventing and Tackling Bullying (November 2014) www.gov.uk/government/publications/preventing-and-tackling-bullying

(See Appendix 1 for a summary of the guidance for Staff members and for headteachers)

*‘a member of the school community’ is defined as including pupils, all employees of the school, volunteers helping at the school, supply and peripatetic staff, parents/ carers and extended family members of pupils, governors, individuals and members of organisations providing a service to the school (eg sports coach, visitor invited to provide input to students)

7. Safeguarding

- 7.1 With the increased access of both pupils and staff to electronic communication, there is an increased chance of a disclosure being made to a member of staff through such a medium. It is increasingly likely that such a disclosure will be made outside normal working hours. Clearly, if the member of staff is not ‘logged on’ (and there is no expectation that they will be), then they cannot be faulted for taking no action until they receive the message during the next working day. The member of staff will then be expected to follow the normal school procedures for reporting a disclosure.

Headteachers will however need to give consideration to a procedure for a staff member receiving a disclosure from a pupil outside the normal working day. It can be easily proved that the member of staff has received the disclosure and so it must be acted on as quickly as reasonably possible. In this case the DSL should be contacted immediately and if they cannot the Deputy should then be contacted.

(A further useful reference source is the Government Offices booklet “Guidance on Safer Working Practice for Adults Who Work With Children and Young People”)

8. Newly Qualified Staff

- 8.1 There can be particular issues for newly qualified staff relating to the use of social network sites. It is likely that throughout their training period, they will have been regular users of such sites and have possibly been less concerned about the content of their ‘pages’ or the image they have presented of themselves. As part of their induction, they should be made aware of the issues raised above as a matter of urgency and be advised to remove any material from such sites that may harm their new professional status. As many newly qualified staff may be not much older than some of the pupils they will be working with, it is extremely important that they are made aware at a very early stage of the potential problems (including loss of job) that inappropriate comments and contact on social network sites (even if outside working hours) can cause.

9. Laptops issued to staff

- 9.1 The laptop remains the property of the School and is provided to users on a loaned basis. The laptop provided must not be used by any person(s) other than the authorised user to whom it has been allocated and the property identification tag attached to each laptop should not be removed for any reason.
- 9.2 School laptops have a predetermined list of software installed on the hard drive. No addition or deletion of any software or hardware is permitted without the express permission of the Head Teacher or School IT Technician. To ensure that security patches and virus definitions are up to date staff should connect the laptop to the School network on a regular basis.
- 9.3 All reasonable care should be taken to prevent loss, damage, theft or unauthorised use of IT equipment as far as is practical. For example, the laptop should never be left in a vehicle overnight or other unsecured, vulnerable situation. Any loss or damage to School IT equipment should be immediately reported to the Head Teacher or School IT Technician.
- 9.4 When a contract of employment at the School ends, the employee must return all computer equipment and software to the Business Manager in full working condition. The user account and all personal work stored on the laptop will then be securely deleted.
- 9.5 If software/hardware problems arise, the laptop may need to be restored to its original settings. Work files may be lost during the restoration process, therefore it is the responsibility of all users to ensure that backups of all files are regularly made to an external device, such as the School's networked server or encrypted mobile device.
- 9.6 Where there is evidence that the laptop has not been used in accordance with the above guidelines, a charge may be made for the replacement or repair of any School laptop whilst on loan.

10. Health and Safety guidance on using IT equipment including laptops

- 10.1 In the interests of health and safety, staff are advised to adhere to the following recommendations for the safe use of personal laptops. Any health and safety concerns associated with the use of laptops should be discussed with the Head Teacher.
 - Sit in a chair that provides good back support to avoid backache and position the laptop directly in front of the user to avoid twisting;
 - Take regular breaks from the screen to reduce eyestrain.
 - Avoid using the laptop on a low table or on the lap as both of these positions will increase strain on the neck and lower back.

This is not an exhaustive list of advice pertaining to health and safety issues. The HSE publication 'Work with Display Screen Equipment: Health and Safety (Display Screen Equipment) Regulations 1992 as amended by the Health & Safety (Miscellaneous Amendments) Regulations 2002 provides further information and guidance.

11. Use of other School IT Equipment

- 11.1 Users who borrow equipment from the School must sign for it and bear the responsibility for its care. Loan equipment should be concealed and stored securely when not in use. Any loss or damage to equipment on loan should be immediately reported to the Head Teacher or School IT Technician in the first instance and any theft or criminal damage should be reported to the Police.
- 11.2 To prevent data loss and ensure consistent application of School policies no personally owned equipment should be attached to the School's network without the permission of the Head Teacher. All mobile devices must be encrypted or password protected wherever technology allows.

12. Software

- 12.1 Users should use software in accordance with applicable licence agreements. To copy software or any supporting documentation protected by copyright is a criminal offence. The use, or possession of unlicensed copies or "pirated" versions of software is illegal and is expressly prohibited by the School. Under no circumstances should any user possess unlicensed software on School premises or use unlicensed software on School IT equipment (including portable equipment).

13 Network Access, Passwords and Data Security

- 13.1 Users must only access information held on the School's computer systems if properly authorized to do so and the information is needed to carry out their work. Under no circumstances should personal or other confidential information held on the School network or IT equipment be disclosed to unauthorised persons. If you accidentally access information, which you are not entitled to view, report this immediately to the Head Teacher or School IT Technician.
- 13.2 Staff using computers in classrooms must ensure that sensitive data is not accessible to students or other individuals by logging off or locking the computer. In other areas computers must not be left logged on when unattended.
- 13.3 Staff passwords must be at least eight characters in length, containing at least one capital letter and one number. Whilst the user account is active the password must be changed on a regular basis, at least termly. System and administration level passwords should also be changed, at least on a termly basis.
- 13.4 All passwords are to be treated as sensitive, confidential information. Therefore, staff must not:
 - write down passwords or store them on-line.

- use School user account passwords for other types of access (e.g., personal ISP accounts, Internet banking, etc.).
 - share passwords with anyone, including line managers, colleagues, administrative assistants, secretaries, or IT Technicians.
 - reveal a password over the phone or in an e-mail message or other correspondence.
 - talk about a password in front of others including family members.
 - hint at the format of a password (e.g., "my family name").
 - reveal a password on questionnaires or security forms.
 - insert passwords into e-mail messages or other forms of electronic communication.
- 13.5 If an account or password is suspected to have been compromised, the incident must be reported immediately to the Head Teacher or School IT Technician so that the account password can be changed.

14. Encryption

- 14.1 Sensitive or confidential information held on laptops or other portable devices (e.g. memory sticks) should be minimised. Staff should always use an encrypted memory stick and should back this up to the server regularly and remove data from the stick. No sensitive or confidential data should be held on personal laptops or unencrypted memory sticks. Where the use of a memory stick to transfer or store data temporarily is unavoidable, this must be done with extreme care, following the school's security protocol, using an encrypted memory stick provided by the School.

15. Monitoring of email

- 15.1 The school reserves the right to make appropriate arrangements to monitor, log, record and access all communications at any time without notice. Initially this is done via an electronic system, however if this was triggered by an employee's actions, this would be reported to the Headteacher. Where there was good cause, this situation would be more closely monitored by the school's IT support Company, but only if explicitly requested in writing by the Headteacher. The Headteacher will record the reason for the monitoring. Whenever an employee's emails have been accessed/monitored, they will be notified and given the reasons in writing. Other than this employees should be assured that no-one is allowed to read/access their emails.

- 15.2 The following details are recorded by the system in respect of every email message:

- name of the person sending the email,
- the email addresses of all recipients and copy recipients,
- the size and name of any file attachments,
- the date and time sent,
- a copy of the email,
- a copy of file attachments.

- 15.3 The school may produce monitoring information, which summarises email usage and may lead to further enquiries being undertaken.

Monitoring information will be kept for six months.

16. Monitoring Internet Access and Instant Messages

- 16.1 Derbyshire County Council records the details of all Internet traffic. This is to protect the Council and its employees from security breaches, including hacking, and to ensure that "unacceptable" sites are not being visited.

The logs record:

- the network identifier (username) of the user,
- address of the Internet site being accessed,
- where access was attempted and blocked by the system,
- the Web page visited and its content,
- the name of any file accessed and/or downloaded,
- the identity of the computer on the network and the date and time.

Data contained in these logs will be monitored regularly by Audit Services to identify inappropriate use and the reports produced from the system will be sent to Chief Officers and Corporate IT as required to fulfil their responsibilities. Any excessive or inappropriate use could result in the facility being withdrawn or disciplinary action being taken.

All monitoring information will be kept for six months.

17. Private Use

- 17.1 Recognise their responsibility to maintain the privacy of individuals, comply with current legislation and the expectations of the School.
- 17.2 IT resources and facilities (including laptops provided to employees) are provided for School business purposes. Reasonable and responsible personal use is allowed, provided there is no conflict with the interests or requirements of the School. The School does not accept liability for any personal loss or damage incurred through using the resources and facilities for private use. The security of private information and data is the responsibility of the user.
- 17.3 In order to comply with the HM Revenue & Customs regulations on taxable benefits any use of a School laptop for an employee's private purposes must not be 'significant'.

18. Disciplinary and Related Action

- 18.1 Suspected misuse of the School's computer systems by a member of staff will be considered by the Head Teacher. Failure to follow the IT Acceptable Use Policy could result in disciplinary action being taken and include a warning, suspension, dismissal from the School and in the case of illegal activities referral to the Police.

19. Summary

- 19.1 School managers have a duty of care to all staff and to ensure that they have a reasonable work-life balance and that they are able to work in a healthy and safe environment. Headteachers should therefore try to ensure that electronic working does not place greater burdens on staff in terms of either workload or response times. Headteachers should also endeavour to support any staff who are subject to abuse through any of the electronic media, by effective and immediate sanctions, in the same way with which it is expected verbal and physical abuse would be dealt.
- 19.2 Staff should always be reminded to think carefully about all forms of communication, but particularly electronic methods (which can be circulated widely and rapidly). If 'thinking about it' gives rise to any doubt, then the best advice is 'don't do it'.

This is a rapidly changing and developing area. This guidance provides initial advice, of which all staff should be made aware. It is anticipated however that it will be reviewed and updated regularly in the light of technological changes.

APPENDIX 1

Employee Guidance on the Use of Social Media

- Staff must be mindful that any online activities/comments made in a public domain, must be compatible with their position within the School, and safeguard themselves in a professional capacity.
- Protect your own privacy. To ensure that your social network account does not compromise your professional position, ensure that your privacy settings are set correctly. Remember to upgrade access settings whenever the application/programme is upgraded.
- When setting up your profile online consider whether it is appropriate and prudent for you to include a photograph, or provide occupation, employer or work location details. Comments made outside work, within the arena of social media, do not remain private and so can have an effect on or have work-related implications. Therefore, comments made through social media, which you may intend to be “private” may still be in contravention of the one of the school’s HR Policies. Once something is online, it can be copied and redistributed making it easy to lose control of. Presume everything you post online will be permanent and can be shared.
- Do not discuss work-related issues online, including conversations about pupils, parents, complaints, management or disparaging remarks about colleagues or the School. Even when anonymised, these are likely to be inappropriate. In addition doing this in the presence of others may be deemed as bullying and/or harassment.
- Do not under any circumstances accept friend requests from a person you believe could be a ‘service user’ or may conflict with your employment.
- Be aware that other users may access your profile and if they find the information and/or images it contains offensive, make a complaint about you to the School as your employer.
- Ensure that any comments and/or images cannot be deemed defamatory, libelous or in breach of copyright legislation.
- You can take action if you find yourself the target of complaints or abuse on social networking sites. Most sites will include mechanisms to report abusive activity and provide support for users who are subject to abuse by others.
- If you do find inappropriate references and/or images of you posted by a ‘friend’ online you should contact them and the site to have the material removed. It is wise to alert your friends in advance to the implications for you, as a school employee, of posting material related to you.
- If you find inappropriate references to you posted by parents, colleagues, pupils or other members of the school community, report this to the Headteacher.
- If you are very concerned about someone else's behaviour online, you should take steps to raise your concerns. If these are work related you should inform your manager/Headteacher.

- Staff should also act in accordance with the all the School's HR Policies and Child Protection/ Safeguarding policies.
- Staff should not access social media sites or leave these running in the background during working hours (contact time for teachers and teaching assistants), on any of the school's devices within their control.

Additional Guidance for Headteachers on the Use of Social Media

Headteachers have a responsibility to:

- Remain familiar with this policy and the employee guidelines to using social media included in the Appendix.
- Ensure staff are made aware of the policy, employee guidelines and provided with appropriate training/briefing.
- Take prompt action to stop any harassment or bullying they become aware of, whether a complaint has been raised or not, including taking steps to seek the prompt removal of any inappropriate material. (see paragraph 6.9)
- Make parents and pupils aware of the implications of posting comments about the school and members of its community. Details will be included in the Home School Agreement and/or school brochure, to indicate the appropriate means for parents of raising any concerns. It is advised that these documents also make reference to the potential implications of posting inappropriate comments about the school/staff/pupils/wider community members. The agreement will also warn against the taking of unauthorised photographs of staff and/or making sound recordings.
- Support employees who are the subject of abuse, through existing policies and procedures.
- Ensure all complaints/allegations are dealt with fairly and consistently, and in accordance with other employment policies where appropriate.

Headteachers are advised to:

- Ensure staff are advised of this policy on appointment and discussion and elaboration is included during induction such that they are fully aware of its content.
- Remind staff on an annual basis of the guidance on use of social media.
- Ensure staff are aware of how to raise concerns
- Include in the relevant section of the Information and Communication Technology curriculum, advice for pupils on the safe use of social media, the restrictions on use of these media for contact with school staff and the implications of posting material on such sites.
- Provide guidance for parents in supporting their children's safe use of social media
- Include in documents like the school brochure and home/school agreement the school's approach to the taking of photographs of pupils, by the school or by parents, and how these may be used. Seeking parents' agreement at the outset and alerting them to potential pitfalls is likely to reduce issues of concern occurring. Parents may need to be made aware of the potential consequences of posting pictures on social media which include children other than their own, without parents' permission.
- Ensure parents and pupils are made aware that the use of social media to make inappropriate comments about staff, other parents or pupils will be addressed by the school in the same way as if these remarks were made in person, in the public domain. Outline how such actions are likely to be damaging to the smooth running of the school and therefore the delivery to children.

- Respond quickly to those posting inappropriate comments. You may wish to issue a standard letter from the Chair of Governors asking them to contact the school/named person on a specific number. When following up, direct them to the appropriate processes for addressing issues or lodging complaints. Ensure the school's actions demonstrate both that harassment will not be tolerated and that expressing concerns through appropriate channels will ensure they are taken seriously. (See specific advice in section 6.9.)
